Introduction

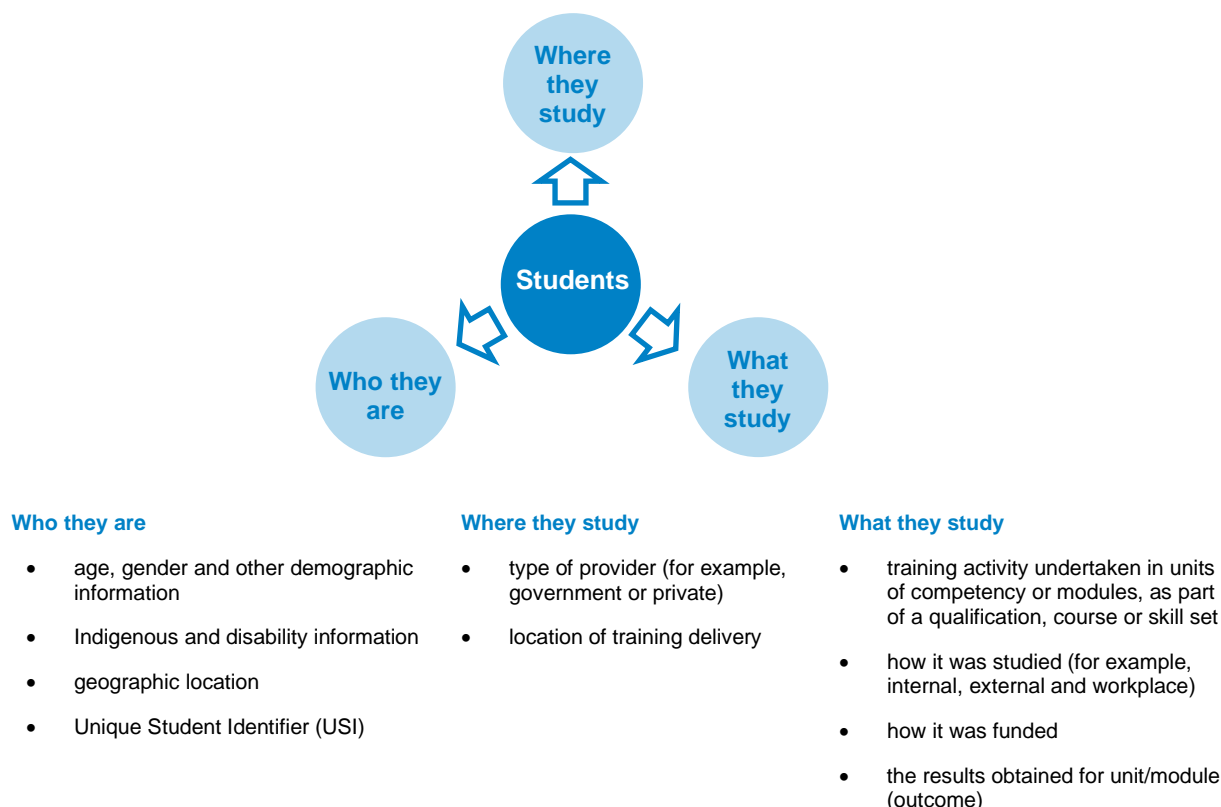

Overview

The Australian Vocational Education and Training Management Information Statistical Standard (AVETMISS) for the National VET Provider Collection is a national framework for the collection and distribution of information on training activity in Australia.

This document presents a set of file specifications that are the authoritative national reference for definitions, context, file structures, relationships and rules for the National VET Provider Collection. Fields that are used to populate Unique Student Identifier transcripts are shaded in grey in the File specifications section. This document also contains standard enrolment form questions.

As shown in figure 1, the required information in this standard relates to students (clients), who they are, where they study, and what they study. Nationally consistent and accurate measurement of VET activity in Australia is enabled by collecting this information in a uniform way.

Scope and reporting requirements

The AVETMISS VET Provider Collection specifications enable the collection of information from training providers who deliver nationally recognised vocational education and training (VET) to domestic and international students at onshore and offshore locations. VET in Schools programs provide credit towards a nationally recognised VET qualification and therefore are included in this collection. This document is also used by training providers who deliver government-funded locally recognised training to domestic students.

The National VET Data Policy, 2017 enforces the collection of AVETMISS-compliant data and outlines the reporting timeframes for all accredited training, from all training providers irrespective of funding arrangements. The frequency, timing and submission processes may be changed from time to time by Senior Officials responsible for VET. The national VET data standard (AVETMISS) for the National VET Provider Collection assures data consistency and quality and covers students, their training and their outcomes.

There are two documents (which should be used together) that describe the AVETMISS data requirements for the National VET Provider Collection:

- the National VET Provider Collection specifications, which describes the files and fields to be collected (this document)

- the AVETMISS data element definitions, which provides detail on the fields listed in the collection specifications.

Data collection and validation arrangements

The following terms are used throughout the AVETMISS VET Provider Collection specifications: release 8.0 document:

Collection year

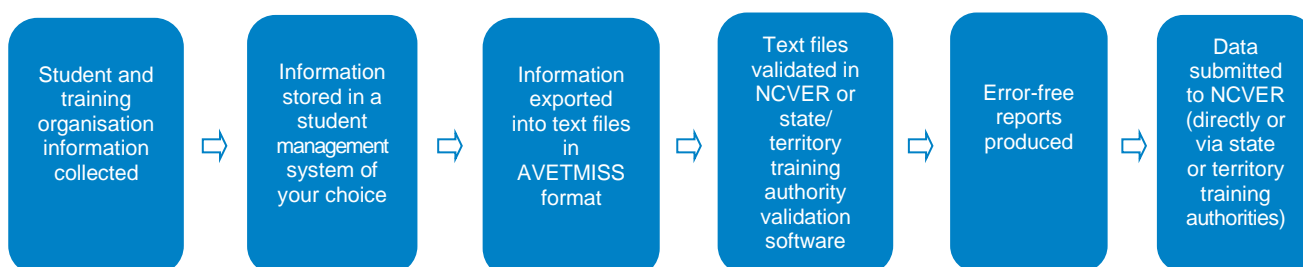

The term ‘collection year’ refers to the calendar year in which the training activity occurred.

Collection period

The term ‘collection period’ refers to the date range of a collection. There may be more than one collection period within a collection year if submitting data for an interim collection. The final submission must contain all data previously submitted during the collection year. For example, in a given year there may be a January-December final collection period, and also January-March, January-June and January-September interim collection periods.

Registered training organisations (RTOs) collect student and training information and store it in student management systems. The file specifications in the AVETMISS VET Provider Collection specifications: release 8.0 detail the specific information to be collected, and specify the format required for the text files. The specifications can be used to check the specifications of commercially available systems or to build a student management system.

The validation process checks that the data collected meet the requirements of the AVETMISS VET Provider Collection specifications: release 8.0. Free validation software is available from the NCVET Portal <<https://www.avs.ncver.edu.au/avs/>>. This is used to validate the data files and ensures they are in the correct AVETMISS format with valid AVETMISS values.

State or territory training authorities may also provide validation software for those RTOs who submit their data to them. The AVETMISS validation software provided by NCVET may be used for validation purposes by anyone.

The AVETMISS validation software is updated on a regular basis. It is recommended that all organisations using the validation software sign up to the Data Support Bulletin alerts from the NCVET Portal or regularly sign in to the AVETMISS validation software homepage to ensure they receive notification of updates. More information is available from the NCVET Portal about the validation process and the errors and warnings produced.

Once data have been validated error-free, the data must be submitted to the appropriate body. For more information on the data submission process, registered training organisations are advised to contact their state or territory training authority or the NCVET Client Support team. Multiple resources, including fact sheets, can be found at <<https://www.ncver.edu.au/rto-hub/avetmiss-support-for-rtos>>.

National VET Collection supplement for non- Training.gov.au information

Introduction

This supplement is an addition to the National VET Provider Collection specifications to cater for specific requirements for non-registered training organisations and government-funded locally recognised training, delivered by both registered and non-registered training organisations in the National VET Provider Collection. It contains the Training organisation (NAT00010A) and Program (NAT00030A) files which are to be submitted in place of the Training organisation (NAT00010) and Program (NAT00030) files described in the main body of this document.

The Training organisation (NAT00010A) and Program (NAT00030A) files contain extra fields and are validated differently. The extra fields in these files do not exist in the main body of the document, as this information can be sourced from the National Register of VET for registered training organisations and for nationally recognised training activity. However, this information cannot be sourced externally for locally recognised training and therefore needs to be provided via these supplementary files. Using the wrong file in your submission will cause validation errors e.g. submitting the Training organisation (NAT00010) file when your training organisation is not registered, or the Program (NAT00030) file when your training organisation is delivering locally recognised training.

The Training organisation (NAT00010A) file is only for use by non-registered training organisations.

The Program (NAT00030A) file is for use by training organisations delivering government-funded locally recognised training. Training organisations delivering a mixture of nationally recognised and locally recognised training should submit all their data in the Program (NAT00030A) file format.

Training organisation (NAT00010A) file

Definition

The Training organisation (NAT00010A) file contains records about the training organisation.

Context

If your organisation is not a registered training organisation you must use the following Training organisation (NAT00010A) file format to submit to the National VET Provider Collection.

This file is not valid for National VET in Schools Collection submissions from state and territories or Boards of Studies. These organisations should use the Training organisation (NAT00010) file.

Definition

The Program (NAT00030A) file contains a record for each qualification, course or skill set associated with activity and completions during the collection period.

A qualification, course or skill set is a structured program that may include practical experience.

Context

The Program (NAT00030A) file provides information about qualifications, courses or skill sets to assist with analysis of the type and level of training activity.

If your organisation delivers any government-funded qualifications, courses or skill sets that are locally recognised (i.e. not nationally recognised) you must use the following Program (NAT00030A) file format to submit to the National VET Provider Collection.

Where an organisation delivers a mixture of nationally recognised and locally recognised training, they should submit data in the following Program (NAT00030A) file format. Where programs delivered are listed on the National Register of VET, those fields not required under the Program (NAT00030) file in the main body of the Standard may be left blank.

This file is not valid for National VET in Schools Collection submissions from state and territories or Boards of Studies. These organisations should use the Program (NAT00030) file.

In addition, we are required to include your USI in the data we submit to NCVET. If you have not yet obtained a USI you can apply for it directly at <https://www.usi.gov.au/students/create-your-usi> on computer or mobile device.

You may already have a USI if you have done any nationally recognised training, which could include training at work, completing a first aid course or RSA (Responsible Service of Alcohol) course, getting a white card, or studying at a TAFE or training organisation. It is important that you try to find out whether you already have a USI before attempting to create a new one. You should not have more than one USI. To check if you already have a USI, use the 'Forgotten USI' link on the USI website at <https://www.usi.gov.au/faqs/i-have-forgotten-my-usi/>.

Disability supplement

Disability supplement

Introduction

The purpose of the Disability supplement is to provide additional information to assist with answering the disability question.

If you indicated the presence of a disability, impairment or long-term condition, please select the area(s) in the following list:

Disability in this context does not include short-term disabling health conditions such as a fractured leg, influenza, or corrected physical conditions such as impaired vision managed by wearing glasses or lenses.

'11 – Hearing/deaf'

Hearing impairment is used to refer to a person who has an acquired mild, moderate, severe or profound hearing loss after learning to speak, communicates orally and maximises residual hearing with the assistance of amplification. A person who is deaf has a severe or profound hearing loss from, at, or near birth and mainly relies upon vision to communicate, whether through lip reading, gestures, cued speech, finger spelling and/or sign language.

'12 – Physical'

A physical disability affects the mobility or dexterity of a person and may include a total or partial loss of a part of the body. A physical disability may have existed since birth or may be the result of an accident, illness, or injury suffered later in life; for example, amputation, arthritis, cerebral palsy, multiple sclerosis, muscular dystrophy, paraplegia, quadriplegia or post-polio syndrome.

'13 – Intellectual'

In general, the term 'intellectual disability' is used to refer to low general intellectual functioning and difficulties in adaptive behaviour, both of which conditions were manifested before the person reached the age of 18. It may result from infection before or after birth, trauma during birth, or illness.

'14 – Learning'

A general term that refers to a heterogeneous group of disorders manifested by significant difficulties in the acquisition and use of listening, speaking, reading, writing, reasoning, or mathematical abilities. These disorders are intrinsic to the individual, presumed to be due to central nervous system dysfunction, and may occur across the life span. Problems in self-regulatory behaviours, social perception, and social interaction may exist with learning disabilities but do not by themselves constitute a learning disability.

'15 – Mental illness'

Mental illness refers to a cluster of psychological and physiological symptoms that cause a person suffering or distress and which represent a departure from a person's usual pattern and level of functioning.

'16 – Acquired brain impairment'

Acquired brain impairment is injury to the brain that results in deterioration in cognitive, physical, emotional or independent functioning. Acquired brain impairment can occur as a result of trauma, hypoxia, infection, tumour, accidents, violence, substance abuse, degenerative neurological diseases or stroke. These impairments may be either temporary or permanent and cause partial or total disability or psychosocial maladjustment.

'17 – Vision'

This covers a partial loss of sight causing difficulties in seeing, up to and including blindness. This may be present from birth or acquired as a result of disease, illness or injury.

'18 – Medical condition'

Medical condition is a temporary or permanent condition that may be hereditary, genetically acquired or of unknown origin. The condition may not be obvious or readily identifiable, yet may be mildly or severely debilitating and result in fluctuating levels of wellness and sickness, and/or periods of hospitalisation; for example, HIV/AIDS, cancer, chronic fatigue syndrome, Crohn's disease, cystic fibrosis, asthma or diabetes.

'19 – Other'

A disability, impairment or long-term condition which is not suitably described by one or several disability types in combination. Autism spectrum disorders are reported under this category.
